

Publikationen Tizian Zumthurm

Monographie

Practicing Biomedicine at the Albert Schweitzer Hospital 1913-1965: Ideas and Improvisations, Brill 2020. Open Access URL: <https://brill.com/view/title/55176>.

Aufsätze (peer-reviewed)

Tizian Zumthurm, Stefan Krebs: "Collecting Memories of the Pandemic for Future Historians (of Technology)." In: Technology and Culture, 63/2 (2022): 483-493, OA URL: <https://doi.org/10.1353/tech.2022.0059>.

Tizian Zumthurm, Stefan Krebs: "Public COVID-19 Digital Memory Banks: Chances and Challenges for Historians of Education". In: Paedagogica Historica Special Issue 'Histories of the Present and Histories of the Past: Pandemics and Historians of Education', (2022), OA URL: <https://doi.org/10.1080/00309230.2021.2017987>.

"Crowdsourced COVID-19 Collections: A brief overview". International Public History, 4/1 (2021): 77-83. OA URL: <https://doi.org/10.1515/iph-2021-2021>.

"The Colonial Situation in Practice: Food at the Albert Schweitzer Hospital, Lambaréné 1924-65." In: International Journal of African Historical Studies, 53/1 (2020): 47-69.

Stefan Grab, Tizian Zumthurm: "'Everything is scorched by the burning sun': Missionary perspectives and experiences of 19th and early 20th century droughts in semi-arid central Namibia." In: Climate of the Past, 16 (2020). OA URL: <https://doi.org/10.5194/cp-16-679-2020>.

Stefan Grab, Tizian Zumthurm: "'The land and its climate knows no transition, no middle ground, everywhere too much or too little': A documentary-based climate chronology for central Namibia, 1845-1900." In: International Journal of Climatology, 38/S1 (2018): e643-e659.

Sonstige

"HIC Conversation with Thorsten Logge, Stefan Krebs, Mark Tebeau, and Tizian Zumthurm edited by Charlotte A. Lerg: Documenting COVID-19 for Future Historians?" In: History of Intellectual Culture (International Yearbook of Knowledge and Society), Vol 1. "Participatory Knowledge" (November 2022), OA URL: <https://doi.org/10.1515/9783110748819-011>

"'Alles ist wertvoll': Digitale Archive von Erinnerungen an die Covid-19 Pandemie". Mit Dania Achermann und Tobias Hodel. Podcast des historischen Instituts der Universität Bern, 09/2021. https://www.hist.unibe.ch/ueber\_uns/digital\_history\_lab/geschichte\_im\_gespraech\_podcast\_des\_historischen\_instituts/index\_ger.html

"Das Archivieren der Pandemie: Rapid Response Collecting in Luxemburg". In: Les cahiers luxembourgeois, 2021-1, 113-119.

Public Covid-19 Collections and the Second Wave: History and Challenges, international workshop at the C<sup>2</sup>DH (online), 26 November 2020.

<https://www.hsozkult.de/conferencereport/id/tagungsberichte-8871> (with Marco Gabellini).

Les collections Covid-19 au Luxembourg, Round Table at the University of Luxembourg, 15 September 2020. URL: <https://www.c2dh.uni.lu/thinking/gap-and-future-covid-19-and-digital-collecting>.

Review of: Niklaus Ingold, Sibylle Marti, Dominic Studer: Strahlenmedizin. Krebstherapie, Forschung und Politik in der Schweiz, 1920–1990. Zürich; Chronos Verlag, 2017. In: Berner Zeitschrift für Geschichte, 81/2 (2019), 60-62.

Review of: Linda Ratschiller and Siegfried Weichlein (Eds.): Der schwarze Körper als Missionsgebiet: Medizin, Ethnologie, Theologie in Afrika und Europa 1880-1960. Köln; Böhlau Verlag, 2016. In: Medical History, 61/1 (2017), 160-162.

Review of: Laurence Monnais: Médicaments coloniaux. L'Expérience vietnamienne, 1905–1940. Paris; Les Indes Savantes, 2014. In: Gesnerus, 73/1 (2016), 187-189.

Review of: Michael A. Osborne: The Emergence of Tropical Medicine in France. Chicago; The University of Chicago Press, 2014. In: Gesnerus, 73/1 (2016), 189-191.